Rajan Kheduli was born in an American Jewish Kurdish family in 1962. He earned his B.S. degree in Civil Engineering from Purdue University in 1976. Like many new Iranian immigrants, Rajan has resided in Los Angeles, since 1980. He co-founded Kishah Corp. in early 1981 and now serves as its President. In November 1999, Rajan married Pamela Shabani, who has been a true partner in all of his business ventures and shares his beliefs and aspirations. Rajan's passion for Iranian culture, art, and literary heritage has made him a spokesman for Iranian identity and autonomy. His work & Co. has become a platform and framework for activities with regard to Iran and the Iranian community both inside Iran and in

The Next Generation

In the summer of 1976, a group of Iranian ladies residing in Los Angeles founded the Iranian Jewish Women's Organization. The mission of this organization was established around the need for adjustment of the Iranian Jewish Community to their new homeland, as well as the preservation of their Jewish and Iranian heritage. This organization's roots were established in Iran in 1969 through the effort of a group of women seeking to improve the standard of life for women and children. For more than thirty years the mission of these women was accomplished by activities such as assisting WWII refugees, the establishment of day care centers in many Iranian cities and literacy classes.

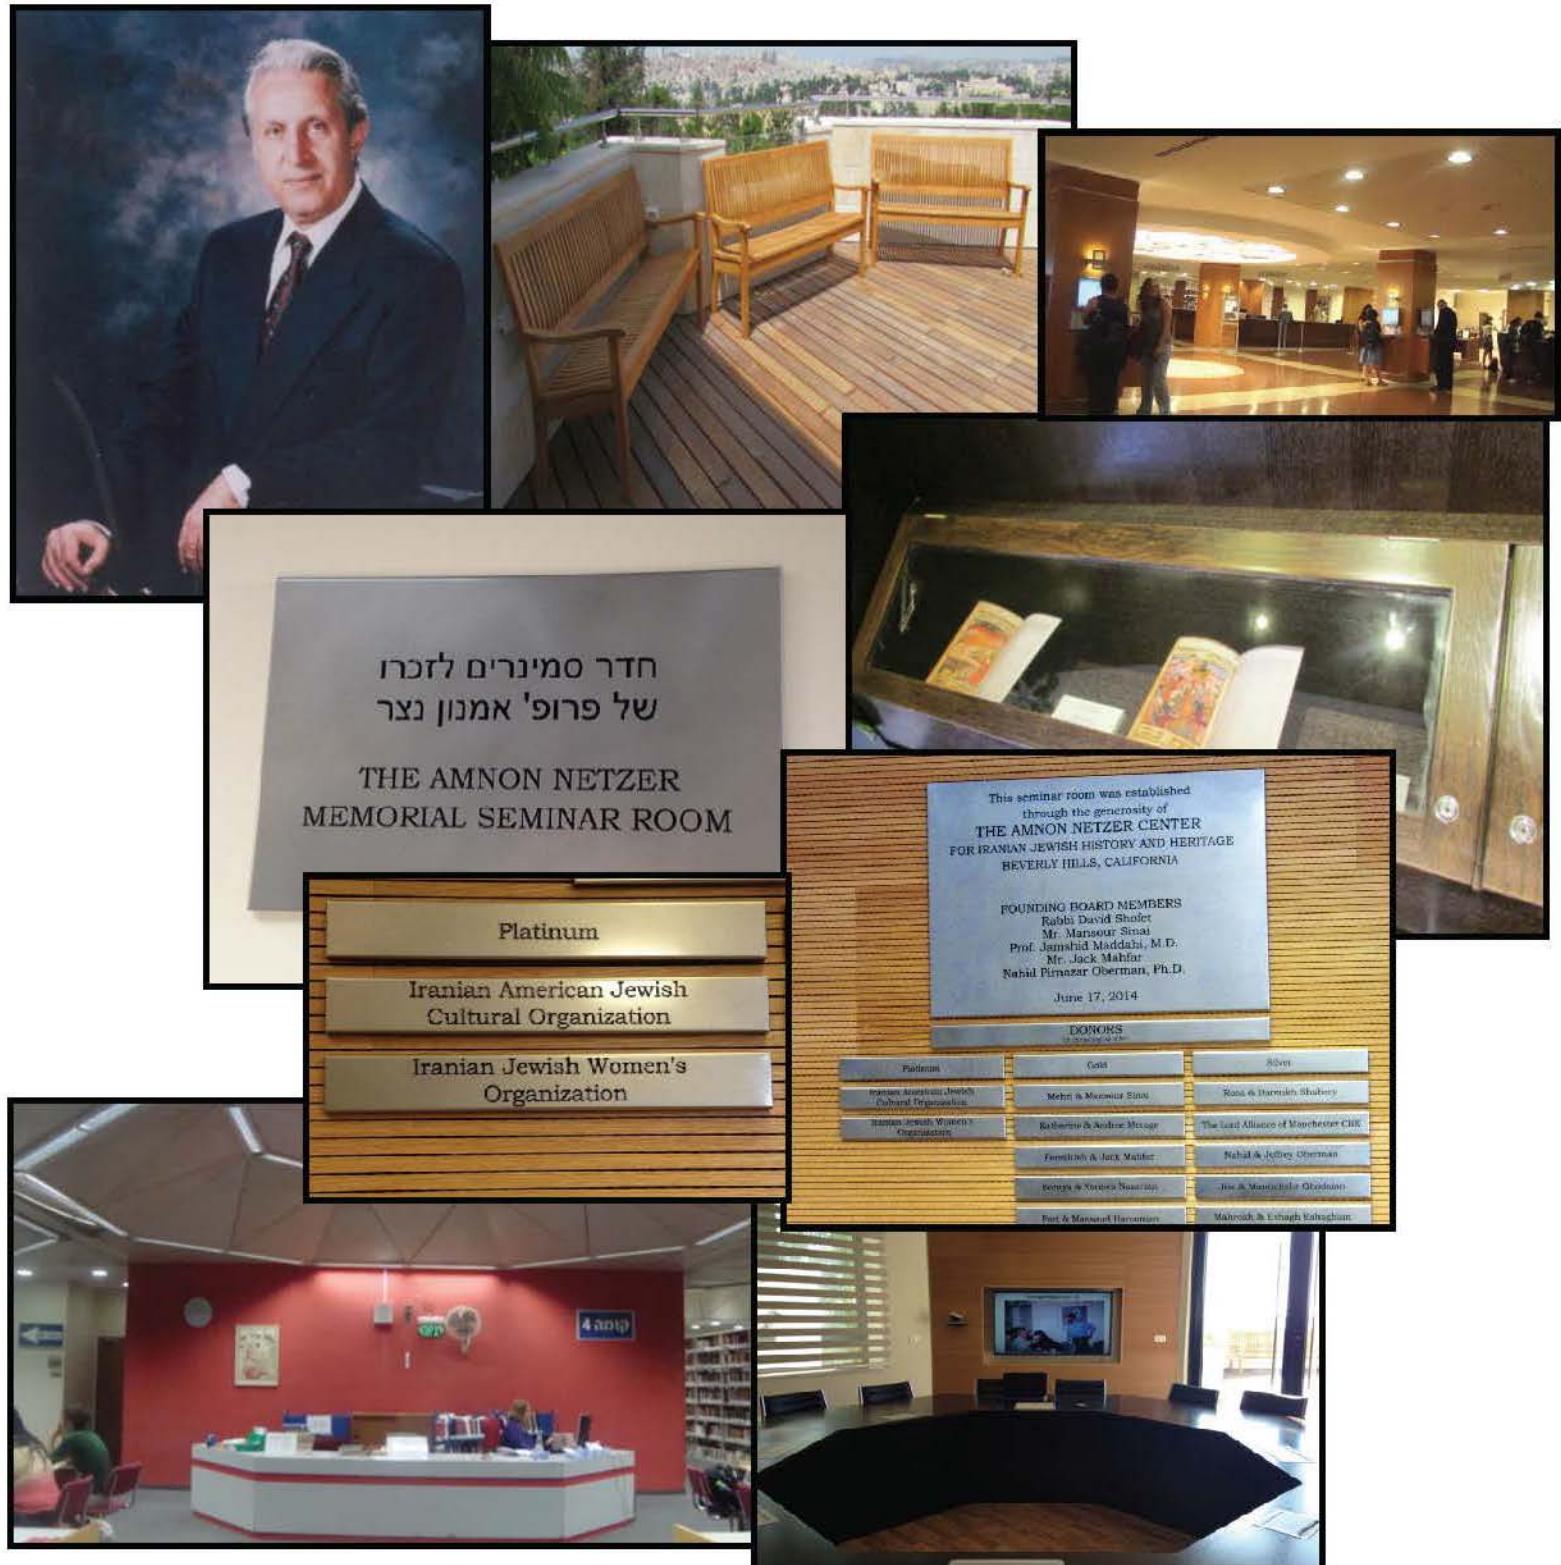

Since 1976, The Iranian Jewish Women's Organization's activities have varied as the Iranian community has grown and become established in Los Angeles. As we continue to grow and change as women and as a community, inevitably there will be a need for the continued enhancement of the image of Iranian women through educational, social, cultural, and charitable activities. The highlights of these activities include, financial aid to needy women, grants and loans to local students, annual contributions to Hebrew University for academic research and scholarships to selected Iranian students, the celebration and promotion of traditional Iranian and Jewish holidays, the annual selection and presentation of the Mother and Woman of the Year and significant financial contributions and involvement to the Yizkorah Rubin Halleh Center for Jewish Life at UCLA.
